Course Syllabus

Department: Humanities

Date: November 2013

I. Course Prefix and Number: FRN 101

Course Name: French I

Credit Hours and Contact Hours: 3 credit hours and 3 contact hours

Catalog Description including pre- and co-requisites: FRN 101 is a beginning language course designed for students with no previous experience in French, or whose experience does not make placement in a higher level French course advisable. The course is designed to provide students with the fundamentals of French pronunciation and grammar, as well as an introduction to Francophone culture. The course will stress the development of communication skills, especially listening and speaking, but will also promote reading and writing skills.

Prerequisites: None

Relationship to Academic Programs and Curriculum: This course is considered a humanities / liberal arts elective. It is an introduction to French language, and no prior knowledge of the language is required. It fulfills the SUNY Gen. Ed. requirement for foreign language for students transferring to four-year schools.

II. Course Outcomes and Objectives

By the end of this course:

- Students will demonstrate comprehension of language consisting of simple vocabulary and structures in conversation with peers and familiar adults
- Students will initiate and respond to simple French statements and manage simple conversation primarily through learned utterances, within the vocabulary, structure, and phonology appropriate to the situations and functions of this level
- Students will use appropriate strategies to initiate and engage in simple conversations with more fluent or native speakers of the same age group, familiar adults, and providers of common public services
- Students will read and interpret simple connected material for informative or social purposes
- Students will demonstrate effective writing skills to express basic personal needs and compose short messages and paragraphs on very familiar topics based on personal experience
- Students will demonstrate acceptable oral and written control of basic constructions and will express present and future ideas using content words and expressions of time
- Students will compare and contrast cultures different from their own, and will learn how to effectively utilize different critical lenses to examine the ethics and values of non-U.S. cultures
• Students will utilize web technologies to communicate and collaborate outside of class and in preparing digital media for assignments and projects
• Students will effectively employ different types of information sources, both physical and digital, to interpret various reading and culture assignments, as well as for various speaking tasks. Students will properly cite their sources using MLA format.
